

The Toxicology History Association (THA)

is pleased to announce its first Webinar

Tuesday, January 15, 2 – 3:30 PM, US Eastern Time

Introduction to the THA, the Webinar Series, and this afternoon's Speakers (Ernie Hodgson, North Carolina State University, Raleigh, NC)

Overview of the Toxicology History Room (Phil Wexler, National Library of Medicine, Bethesda, MD)

Richard Mead, a Pivotal Figure in Medical Toxicology (Steven Seifert, New Mexico Poison and Drug Information Center, Albuquerque, NM)

Alchemy as a Precursor to Toxicology (Steven G. Gilbert, Institute of Neurotoxicology and Neurological Disorders, Seattle, WA)

Questions and Discussion

This free Webinar is strictly limited to 25 participants. Pre-register simply by sending an expression of interest by January 1 with your name and affiliation to Steve Gilbert at sgilbert@inn.org and we will send you complete instructions for joining the meeting.

And consider becoming a member of the Toxicology History Association (<http://toxhistory.org>).